

WELCOME TO THE 7TH GRADE!

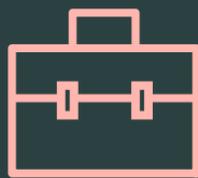

MY NAME IS MISS WELLER

7th grade Homeroom, ELA, and Social Studies

1. EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND

I grew up in Georgia and attended college at Auburn University in Alabama (War Eagle!). I have my Bachelor's Degree in Secondary English Language Arts Education. I felt a tug in my heart to move up North and found my home here at Saint Aloysius!

2. EMPLOYMENT BACKGROUND

Pretty soon after meeting me, it becomes common knowledge that I love all things Disney. I used to work at Walt Disney World resort in a multitude of positions. Before my time in Disney, I served on a multitude of Education-oriented groups on my college campus. I always found myself in some sort of teaching position at every job I've worked. One thing I always knew--I would one day TEACH!

IN THE CLASSROOM

"TAKE CHANCES, MAKE MISTAKES, AND GET MESSY!" -MISS FRIZZLE

Everything I do, I do for the benefit of the young minds in my classroom. 7th grade is a tricky year for a multitude of reasons; it is, in my opinion, one of the most important transitional years in a young person's life. I make it a priority to create a safe space in my classroom--to ask the hard questions, to explore new perspectives, to authentically express oneself, and to eventually step forward into the world beyond Saint Aloysius with confidence! With the right mix of rigor, laughter, practice, and love--all of this is possible!

7TH GRADE THEMES

1. Advocation - learning to confidently speak up for your needs, beliefs, and passions
2. Balance - practicing a healthy amount of responsibility and accountability with teachers and with peers
3. Exploration - continually looking through every available perspective so as to come to your own unique conclusions
4. Leadership - discovering what it means to be a leader, and that leaders come in all shapes and sizes!
5. Communication - fostering an environment of accountability with teachers and practicing healthy and encouraging communication with peers.
